OUR EXPERTISE

Formulation

For 38 years we have always been backed by cosmetics experts on the development side. Our in-house laboratory can develop both completely from scratch and individualized formulations based on benchmarks. On the picture Dr. Jutta Rath our Head of Development.

Color

The highly specific topic of color is particularly close to our hearts. Color cosmetics require expertise, because pigments react to heat, processes and, above all, a good eye. We love colors.

MOQs

We love to work with people, and our manufacturing department is no exception. Thanks to semi-automation, we can meet the needs of many different customers. From small batches of 1,500 pieces per color to quantities in the millions, everything is possible. The picture shows our colleagues in production.

Processing

In order to be able to respond to customer requirements in process engineering, we rely on our own in-house experts. Our process engineers can quickly resolve machine problems and offer solutions that are tailored to the customer. In the picture Andreas Hauptmann our process engineers.
